

The Peoples' Ticket

The following candidates were endorsed by the People's Convention called by the City Republican Central Committee of Ogden under direction of instruction from a mass convention of the Republicans of Ogden that the people generally should participate. These men stand for lower taxes, strict economy, enforcement of the laws, including the 9 o'clock liquor closing law and no pets in the saloon or other business. We stand for a square deal to all. The Standard unreservedly endorses the whole ticket.

TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE IN OGDEN.

Do not be surprised, if an organization is formed in Ogden which will spread throughout the state and solve this everlasting tax problem.

A group of Ogden property owners are now considering the advisability of organizing the entire city by blocks. Once compactly banded together, they are to name committees to consider all phases of taxation, from the assessing of property to the spending of the money.

The first move will be to demand an equitable assessment. Under the new law property must be assessed at full value, but this valuing of property will be passed on by committees instructed to go over the lists prior to the time the board of equalization reviews the same.

There will be impeachment proceedings, if necessary, to prevent

MILES L. JONES, NOMINEE FOR CITY COMMISSIONER

One of Utah's native sons and proprietor of the M. L. Jones Coal and Ice Co. I am retiring from the active management of the business and if elected will give my entire time and attention to the best interest of the city, and will protect the rights and privileges of all the citizens of our community.

I am not pledged to any individual or special interests and will be free to act according to my best judgment upon all matters coming before the commission, which shall always be for the best interests of the whole people.

The following are some of the principles I advocate:

1. I am opposed to granting valuable long term franchises without the consent of the people.
2. I shall endeavor to reduce all expenses to a minimum, consistent with efficiency, with view of reducing taxation.
3. Efficiency in every department to be the basis of all appointments.
4. The moral uplift and advancement of Ogden City.
5. No change in the nine o'clock closing of saloons.
6. A fair day's pay for a fair day's work.
7. If Ogden City financial conditions will permit, I would favor the city owning its own Electric Light System.

JNO. E. BAGLEY

I have practiced law for over 30 years. I believe that my experience has qualified me for the office of Municipal Judge.

discrimination or manifestly unfair treatment of small property owners. Property escaping taxation will be brought to the attention of the county officials.

A prominent citizen stated this morning that the combining of the taxpayers in a league would be an accomplished fact before two months have passed.

The Standard's suggestion of a month ago is beginning to have its effect.

A taxpayers league should be formed in Ogden and then extended to embrace every city and county in Utah. The time has arrived when taxes must be cut down and all property in Utah be made to pay its full share of state, county and city tax.

HOW TO VOTE TUESDAY.

With the closing of the municipal campaign The Standard entreats the voters to select the most capable and worthy men.

Taxpayers should remember, in voting for mayor, they are selecting a city manager, who is to handle their money. They should pass on the two men aspiring to office as they would were they selecting a man to manage their private business. Furthermore, other qualifications being equal, they should elect the man who would represent Ogden at public celebrations to the best advantage. There will be times when the most prominent men of the country will be the guests of Ogden. The mayor then will be called on to welcome them and address the people. We have scenery to show strangers and a beautiful city. Why not on state occasions add to those exhibits that of intellectuality; why have Ogden suffer by comparison with the talented mayors of other cities?

Do not let your prejudices sway you, but vote for your own and your city's best interests.

T. D. JOHNSON FOR JUDGE.

Word from Washington is to the effect that T. D. Johnson of Ogden is to be the successor of John A. Marshall on the federal bench in Utah.

Mr. Johnson is a strong Democrat, and not of our political party, nevertheless he is our choice for the position, as he is a straightforward, bright, honorable man. He has all the qualifications of a judge. His knowledge of the law is thorough, his sense of right and wrong is highly developed and he would be above reproach in a judicial capacity.

Uterior motives would never influence him in cases involving friend or foe.

The Standard congratulates our Democratic friend on his success.

MARRYING THE CRIPPLES.

In England, the young women are being urged to marry the crippled soldiers back from the war, in order to perpetuate the race.

The latest casualty list for Great Britain brings the total of killed up to 101,000. The number of killed and wounded total 493,000. Half a million men have been put out of action. Perhaps 200,000 have been killed or permanently crippled. Before the war is ended the crippled and dead may reach one million, two-thirds of whom will be Englishmen. In a population of which not more than 6,000,000 were able-bodied, vigorous men at the beginning of the conflict, this loss will represent one in nine, and leave a very large preponderance of marriageable girls in England. As a result, there will be many hundred thousand English girls united to the war cripples, whose devitalized condition will be productive of a less vigorous race than existed when the war broke out.

What is true of England, will apply with greater force to France, Germany and Austro-Hungary, where the losses have been very heavy.

The world, in the lowered physical worth of the white races, is to pay dearly for this war. Our own Civil War is said to have reduced the weight and height of Americans. With 30,000,000 armed men filling Europe with defectives, the effect on future generations will be to not only reduce the men in stature, but to rob Europe of many of its most brilliant minds.

SOMETHING UTAH NEEDS.

The entire country will be interested in the vote on New York's proposed new constitution, to be passed on next Tuesday. One of the most important provisions relates to court practice, and should be copied by the State of Utah. As summarized, the article provides that the technical differences in forms of action and proceedings shall be abolished and a single form of action provided for every purpose, excepting only the liberty-saving writ of habeas corpus. Technicalities are to disappear from consideration in the hearing and review of cases. All questions between the parties concerned are to be disposed of in a single action and in an orderly manner. Parties may be brought into or dismissed from the case during its progress as justice may require. All controversies must be plainly stated and full disclosures of facts made. Commercial cases are to receive summary consideration as well as sham and dilatory defenses. Mistakes, irregularities and defects in judicial proceedings, when affecting no substantial right, are to be disregarded. A statute, municipal ordinance or written instrument may be submitted to a court for construction or interpretation, by mere notice to the parties interested, and a controversy may be placed before a judge or court without written pleadings and free from all technical rules.

The legislature is directed to enact a brief and simple practice act and rules of courts. Thereafter all changes and modifications in the rules, found needful from time to time, shall be framed only by joint action of the judges of the courts. Once in five years only the legislature may appoint a commission to consider the existing rules and recommend desirable changes. Otherwise the legislature must in no way meddle with the course of the judicial determination of private rights.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR MARTIN TRIAL AT FARMINGTON

Judge J. A. Howell is holding a brief session of court at Farmington today, making final arrangements for the J. H. Martin trial next Tuesday. The day for the trial will be definitely fixed for November 2, in the Farmington division and a jury will be summoned to appear on that day. It was just four years ago today since the robbery of a diamond ring of Mrs. Isabella Wallin is alleged to have been committed and this is the day on which the statutes of limitation for prosecution of such cases intervenes. The question of statutory limitation for trial may be an issue when the case is called November 2.

CHOOSING.

Eighty pretty girls were cavorting about the stage when two young men took seats in the last row. "So your girl's in this show, eh?" said one youth. "Yep," replied the other. "She's on the stage right now." "Which one is she?" "The pretty one," came the reply in all seriousness.—Blide Dudley.

UNSEEMLY HASTE.

Joy Rider (stopped by rural constable)—Haven't we got any rights left in this country? Doesn't the constitution guarantee us life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness? Constable—It doesn't guarantee no man the pursuit of happiness at ninety miles an hour.—Judge.

OSCAR FIGMAN IN "A PAIR OF SIXES"

At the Orpheum Tomorrow.

"A Pair of Sixes," the brilliant farce from the pen of Edward Peple, which H. H. Frazee will present at the Orpheum theatre on Sunday, October 31, is full of bright and witty dialogue and there is not a suggestive line or situation in the entire play. It is a clean snappy farce that refreshes and invigorates its auditors and sends them away happy and contented.

The story tells of the trials and tribulations of two pill makers, who cannot agree as to how their business shall be run. They quarrel so often that they finally summon their attorney and tell him to find some way out of their unpleasant partnership. A game of poker is played, the winner to conduct the business for a year, and the loser to be the servant. They agree to this and "A Pair of Sixes" decides the result, which follows with many supremely amusing and side-splitting conditions.

Oscar Figman is a featured member of the New York company to be seen here. A year in New York and six months in Chicago is but a brief record of the comedy's run in the larger cities.—Advertisement.

HE WROTE IT DOWN.

There was no doubt about it, Michael Muldoon had lost a five pound note. How, then, was he to get back to Dublin?

But, sure, the London police would find it for him! Into a station marched Michael and told his sad story to the sergeant.

The officer was inclined to be sympathetic.

"I suppose you wrote down the number of the note?"

"And Ol did that, sorr!" said Mike, proudly.

"And what is the number, then?"

"And isn't that just what I don't know myself?"

"But you said you wrote it down!" exclaimed the officer, testily.

"That's the worst of it. I wrote it on the back of the note!"—Dundee Scotsman.

GOOD IDEA.

The serious-looking man was trying hard to listen to the speaker's eloquence, but the squalling of an infant in the row of seats directly ahead gave him little opportunity. Annoyance gave way to irritation, and irritation in turn was superseded by resolve. He leaned forward, touched the mother on the shoulder and in a dispassionate tone asked:

"Has your baby been christened yet?"

"Why, no, sir. Why do you ask?"

"Merely because I was about to suggest that if he had not been christened you might name him 'Good Idea.'"

"And why 'Good Idea'?" asked the woman.

"Because"—the man struggled hard to repress his feelings—"It should be carried out."—Chicago Herald.
